Poiling the Members.

What They Say on the Senatorship. There are one hundred and fifty-three Republican members of the Pennsylvania Legislature, giving that party a majority of fifty-six on joint ballot. This will be increased by one by the election in the Sixth Senate district to-morrow to fill a vacancy. This majority will name a United States senator to succeed Senator Wallace, and as there are a multitude of candidates and no certainty about the strength of any of them, the Times has undertaken to get some idea of the opinions of members for the benefit of its readers. Circulars were mailed to every Republican member, asking him to indicate his first and second choice and to make such remarks as he might deem pertinent to the occasion. About one-third of the whole number have been heard from so far and are grouped below. The returns foot up thus: For Grow, 15; for Ward, 3; seattoring, 8; undecided, 12.

Lancaster County. Of the replies received the following from Lancaeter county are characteristic: Laudis, John H. Lancaster; first choice, Galusha A. Grow; second choice would probably be Hon. Glenni W. Scofield, but I know no second choice as long as 1 have Hon. Galusha A. Grow to vote for. For once the members of the Legislature should represent the wish of the people rather than heed the dictates of machin bosses. Would the people of the state vote upon the senatorial question "the father of the American homestead bill' would be elected by one hundred thousand majority. The members of the Senate and House who are instructed, and those who were understood to be for Grow before the election, who now attempt to manu factures excuses for withholding their support by giving complimentary votes to local candidates, are plotting treason of the rankest kind against the well-known wishes of their constituents. The very best element of the Republican party are for Grow, and correctly so; for when the other states of the union are making up their minds to send their ablest and foremost statesmen to represent them in the American Senate chamber-when Vermont has just returned her Edmunds and Rhode Island her Burnside; when Maine is about to send her Hale or her Frye, Massachusetts her Dawes, Connecticut her Haw-ley, New Jersey her Halsey or her Sewell, Ohio her Sherman, Indiana her Harrison and Tennessee her Maynard, Pennsylvania owes it to herself, to her interests and to her people to send her ablest, bravest and safest statesman-her pure and patriotic Mylin, Amos II., senator Thirteenth dis-

OXFORD NEWS.

Fire on Saturday Night. On Saturday night the stable and shedding attached to the hotel property of the fire was going on the hotel and another stable were in great danger, but they were saved by the firemen. During the fire a darkey, who is known as "Modoc," ran into the house of Dr. Rodgers and alarmed the family by telling Rodgers and alarmed the family by telling them that their house was in danger. They began carrying out clothing and the darkey assisted. Finally he left and a silver watch was found to be missing. He was caught after the fire and the watch was found in his boot. He was taken to the West Chester jail and will be held for trial at court.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

A couple of boys broke through the ice on the river yesterday-they broke the Sabbath day as well.

It is not yet known here whether the Pennsylvania railroad company will sell excursion tickets during the holidays or not. It has been done heretofore and probably will be this year.

Mrs. R. Owens, who has been visiting at Mount Bethel, at this place for the past week, left here to-day for her home at Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, Pa. The bar department of the Susquehauna rolling mill, which had been a stand-still since Friday, by the breaking of a pinion, resumed operations this morning. The pavements throughout town are this morning covered with sleet and in a very slippery condition. Walking hazardous

Rev. J. McCoy preached a very interest-ing sermon in the Presbyterian church last evening. The topic to which he confined himself principally was the rearing of chil-dren with the influences to be scattered about them, etc. The sermon was attentively listened to.

The new shifting engine No. 441, which arrived here one day last week to take the place of shifter No. 364, was put to work this morning; 364 will be taken to Philadelphia.

The Columbia gas company elected a board of directors on Saturday, but an organization has not yet been effected. Forty hours' devotion commenced yesterday in St. Peter's Catholic church, and court. will continue until to morrow evening.

The three boys from Chestnut hill, against whom Dr. Kline preferred the charge of disorderly conduct, appeared before Justice Evans on Saturday afternoon, for trial. Two of the party, who were scared almost to death, were discharged with a repremand, and the third was ordered to pay the costs. They all promised to behave themselves in the future. The test pump which was brought here from Altoona to test the boilers of the Frederick division engines will be sent back this week. Several of the engine boilers have been tested.

William Crissinger, a well-known citizen of Columbia, died at his residence on Locust street, above Third, this morning of heart disease, aged about 35 years. Deceased was an active member of the Columbia fire company and that organiza-tion will keenly feel his loss. The engine ouse has been draped with crape and it s probable the company will attend the funeral in a body.

A large number of his friends of both sexes called, on Saturday evening, at the residence of G. A NOVEL TROUPE.

An Arab With a Stranger for a Guest." On Saturday evening a troupe of Palestine Arabs appeared in the opera house. Arab guide who was the first to discover reed player and dancer; Sheik Youseph Awden (El Ramlanec), who was married when 8 years old and became a father at 12 years; Khawadja Yakoob (El Bahzoozie), a sword dancer and tambovrinist; Khawadja Yakoob (El Haweet), a player from town, and 'buses were kept running on the Syrian harp; Shelk Mohammed Sulieman (El Malowee), a whirling derv-During the whole day three or four ice ish from Bagdad, and James Rosedale and ites from Jerusalem. the Jebusites, Edomites, Moabites, and Ishmaelites. Selim Hashim, the manager of the Arabs, and an accomplished lin-quist, speaking thirty-two tongues, gave an introductory lecture, in which he told the audience that the customs, ceremonics &c., of these people, would be given, and that the entertainment would be all the more interesting to the public from the fact that the exhibition would consist of customs in use among these same people 4,000 Hamilton, Mrs. Carrie Leonard, Miss years ago. While the civilization of sur-are just the same now as ever. The performance was an exhibition of the Arabian salutations on the streets, marriage ceremony, the mode of preparing and eating meals, mode of worship, and the man-ner in which the Bedouins attack cara-vens. During the performance Sheik Mchammend Sulieman, who is from Bagdad, Parl, which will save you annually many times and is known as the whirling dervish, gave an exhibition of whirling, which consisted in rapidity turning on one foot, apparently propelling himself with the other. He would turn for ten minutes at a time, and the lecturer informed the audience that he would be able to continue for two hours.

The whirling dervish is a pious Mohammedan, whose devotions, as exhibited to it is erected a two story and attic brick crown when he puts it on, and he takes off his shoes when he steps upon the prayer rug. It angers him to see any one with shoes on tread upon the rug, and he says he would knock such irreverent Christians down if it were safe to do so. The rug is over 300 years old, and was stolen from a mosque. The dervish carries as his badge of office, a battle axe, descended from the Saracens and made of Damascus steel. The howling of the dervish is to signify that he is ready to serve God with all his might, and his whirling is to indicate that he will go just where God pleases to turn him. He is a true Ishmaelite, and believes that every man's hand is against him as his hand is against every man. The dervish is the only one of his party who cares nothing for money. At the conclusion of the exhibition proper the audience were invited to examine the implements of war, culinary apparatus, etc., which the troupe had. Among them were the battle axe, 900 nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere years old, the Damascus blade made by 25 cents a bottle.

an art now lost, and the holy rug. The only female member of the party is Rebecca, the Jewish girl, who is singularly fair, with large eyes shaded by long black lashes. She was in native costume, and wore a head dress of fine stuff embroidered with gold thread. She had no skirts, but wore long, baggy trousers of brocaded silk, drawn about her ankles.

The most interesting member of the party is the Bedouin, a big Arab, with a Joshua Menaugh, in the village of Oxford, was entirely consumed by fire, together with a quantity of hay and straw. While Prophet, are rarely on good terms. The performance was very interesting as well as instructive, and it was highly appreciated by the audience, which was composed of some of the most intelligent people of the city. As the Arabs appeared in their scenes of salutation, bartering, feasting, marrying and robbing, they seemed to have stepped out of a picture of Oriental scenes. The sword dence of El Bahzoozie is interesting. It is the dance of a chief-tain before his warriors as they return from battle. The dancer brandished the sword so swiftly that he seems at times to be behind a sheet of mirror glass. El Bahzoozie's title is taken from his large eyes, and the name means "pap-eyes."

John Brady was sent up for 10 days; John Ferry, 5 days, and a colored bootblack named Roland for 5 days. Five vagrants were discharged. Brady, who is well-known in the police courts, was arrested at Reuben Bertzfield's, on Church street. He went into the house while drunk and was found sitting in the front room by Mr. Bertzfield. He refused to leave. Officer Stormfeltz was notified and he escorted John to the station house. On Saturday a party of boys built a large fire along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad near the Harrisburg pike. The water found its way under ground for a distance of sixty feet to Mr. Slavmaker's. Runaway Horse Fatally Injured. On Saturday evening Elias Myers, a young man who resides in Upper Leacock township, was out driving. As he passed the house of Amos Bushoag one of the axles of his buggy broke. He was thrown out and considerably bruised. The horse ran about three hundred yards to the corner of Isaac Lauman's land, where he ran against the fence, breaking one of his front legs. Mr. Myers went to the house of Mr. Lauman where he procured a gun and shot the animal, which was a valuable one. The buggy was a complete wreck.

December 13. ety of such legislation as shall require the filling of vacancies in the signal corps above the rank of sergeant by appointment from the navy or by promotion in the corps.

The bill for the relief of Fitz John Porter was then taken up and Mr. Randoniph offered an amendment announced by him a few days ago.

Mr. Edmunds moved to amend by limiting to one year from the passage of bill the time within which Porter's restoration can be made, so that if the present or next president should decline to restore him the bill should not live for future administrations. Rejected by a party vote, except that Davis (Ills.) and Mc Donald (Ind.) voted aye.

Mr. Carpenter then argued against the
